Complaint

Title:

Privatisation of the Ex-servicemen Contributory Health Scheme

Subject Matter:

Prescriptions of the current month relieve the ECHS from liability to provide the non-reimbursable items Not Available in the earlier month's prescriptions but compound worries of its beneficiaries when the items become NA once again – delay, unavailability, distant pharmacies, dependency on conveyors, overpricing, and financial constraints jeopardise treatment at home of the aged beneficiaries, despite repeated visits to the Polyclinics in the same month. India has been sold to wealthy foreigners under the Foreign Direct Investments; that is why the Central Government no more needs much capital to run the country and income tax reduced; thus, the defence minister expects beneficiaries to have more to spend, and so the Central Government keeps extending the list of non-reimbursable items, like needles, syringes, cotton, and spirit, and the list of excluded from the ECHS's CDL items, like spacer, rotacap inhalation device, and nebuliser mask kit, for the beneficiaries to buy at their own expenses. Thereby the Central Government has taken the first step to privatise the ECHS by making the beneficiaries more dependent on private companies and markets. Requested to immediately pass order nationwide to provide to the beneficiaries at least the non-reimbursable and NA items due in earlier ECHS's prescriptions when supply is restored. The rest of the non-CDL items would be taken care of by the affected aged beneficiaries in elections.

Ref. № CPT/AC5A/COECHS/3(30)
Calcutta the 5th January 2026

Requisition to provide, when supply is restored, the non-reimbursable and NA items in the earlier ECHS's prescriptions to all beneficiaries and insulin pen needles NA in the ECHS's prescription dt. 26th Nov 2025 to my father.

? Respected Soldier,

Cause of action: The items included in the ECHS's CDL[1] but not reimbursable[2], whenever are available in the ECHS Polyclinics, are prescribed by the Polyclinics' Medical Officers; else – to under–report rape, police do not readily take FIR – to under–report shortage of supply, the items are not prescribed by the Medical Officers unless much persuaded by the beneficiaries or their patient parties for the sake of performance of medical standards. One such item is insulin pen needle, for example. On direction of the CO ECHS, the unabashed Indian Military without a trace vanished my RTI Application and the First Appeal seeking redacted copies of one hundred prescriptions where the Medical Officers prescribed needles and syringes to the beneficiaries[3].

Calcutta State Transport Cooperation, Government of West Bengal, runs excess buses to compensate private buses gone into strike. Similarly, the ECHS (Government) is supposed to tide over uncertainties to provide medical security to the beneficiaries. In the history of the ECHS, however, today for the very first time the Central Government has made the items non-reimbursable and excluded from the ECHS's CDL without being concerned about from where would the beneficiaries get the items and how would the beneficiaries do without the items; even till today there is not a single Government order to provide the beneficiaries, whenever available, the needles NA in their earlier ECHS's prescriptions.

Amid human rights violations in Bangladesh, the Indian hotel owners' association have posted notices barring entries to Bangladeshis; amid Russia—Ukraine war, two Bengali manufacturers and exporters tried to commit suicide after killing their family members; amid President Trump's tariff war, medicines went beyond financial capacities of the United States citizens. For the items, therefore, the Central Government made the beneficiaries wholly dependent on private manufacturing and pharmaceutical companies and susceptible to vulnerabilities of open market – I have never ever seen the ECHS providing needles manufactured by a Government of India owned company. It just seems that the affluent Military Officers, closer to the rank of Chief of Defence Staff, sitting at the apex of ECHS administration have secretly agreed with Prime Minister Modi to set the ECHS on the way to privatisation.

Requisition: Please

(1) on the next visit to the Polyclinic Salt Lake, provide my father insulin pen needles NA in the ECHS's prescription dated 26th November 2025;

(2) pass order to all Medical Officers of ECHS Polyclinics and Military Hospitals for prescribing as necessary at least the non-reimbursable ECHS's CDL items, like needles, syringes, cotton, spirit, and etcetera, irrespective of availability of the same in the Polyclinics;

(3) pass order to all ECHS Polyclinics and Military Hospitals' ECHS Stores for providing the beneficiaries, whenever supply is restored, the non-reimbursable and NA items in ECHS's prescriptions dated not older than seven months[4];

(4) else, reimburse the beneficiaries for purchase of the non-reimbursable NA items and the items excluded from the ECHS after introduction of CDL, without which the medicines provided cannot be used by the beneficiaries.

I hope that by sincerely providing the relief sought, you will prove me wrong about privatisation of the ECHS. Thanks.

Hopefully, &c., Place: Dum Dum, Calcutta.
